SPEECH COACHING FOR EXECUTIVES & PERFORMERS

Accent Reduction • Dialect Coaching
Business English • Presentation & Interview Skills
TOEFL Preparation • World Language Tutoring

Melanie Fox holds a Master's of Linguistics from Georgetown University and has 15+ years of experience in the language education and professional development industries.

Melanie Fox is an acclaimed dialect coach and accent reduction specialist who helps non-native English speakers articulate clear business English and empowers performers to master dialects from around the world.

Through her brand, Speech Fox LLC, Melanie offers custom-tailored language lessons for English language learning. She customizes her classes to fit the unique needs of each client, based on his/her native language, English proficiency, personal goals, and business objectives. She designs her classes based on applications of principles in phonetics and phonology in a way that is accessible, practical, and enjoyable for clients. Melanie's expertise includes media interviews, business presentation skills, public speaking, and white-glove customer service for elite clientele. She focuses on pronunciation but can also incorporate grammar, listening comprehension, reading comprehension, TOEIC/TOEFL preparation, business writing, speech writing, sales pitches, customer service scripts, and other presentation skills upon request. She also coaches Spanish pronunciation for non-native speakers.

Speech Fox lessons are available face-to-face in her Midtown Manhattan office or via live, recordable video-based web conference. With a vast team of native-speaking consultants, Speech Fox also offers bespoke world language lessons—conveniently at your office or virtually.

“ As EVP and CMO of Nestle Waters NA, I give high-profile keynote speeches in English that are televised and shared across social media. It had been a challenge for me to optimize communications, especially during high-stakes meetings, speaking engagements, and other important presentations. I hired Melanie to help me with all of the above. Melanie has been a major asset in helping me to improve my accent and developing better and sharper communication skills. My spoken English has drastically improved. My colleagues frequently point out what a difference they hear. ”
